

Apor Vilmos Catholic College – Erasmus+ Course

Course title: Information and Library Studies

Credit: 2 ECTS

Course description:

The main objective of the course is to make students familiar with those up-to-date information channels through which they can get access to the relevant scientific information they need as students and teachers. They learn about online library catalogues (OPAC), full text databases (e.g. EBSCO, ProQuest, ERIC) and e-book collections, their coverage and usage. They also deal with Web 2.0 services, such as online reference management softwares (e.g. Zotero, EndNote) and social bookmarking services (e.g. Delicious, Draggo).

The course also intends to present the educational side of social media, which is very popular among students. They create Wikipedia articles, learn about professional social networking services (e.g. ResearchGate, LinkedIn) and online presentation softwares (Prezi).
